FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

SUNDAY, April 17, 1864. The past week has been one of extraordinary excitement in Spancial circles. Gold fluctuated between 171 and 189, at times rendering the speculators almost wild, and a panic seized the stock market and nearly broke ve and twenty per cent. These circumstances, added the extraordinary visit of Secretary Cha-e to this city, the sus ension of the sale of gold certificates, cement by the Secre ary of the Treasury that States Senate in relation to the traffic in coin, and the of Representatives, all tended to make up a most extraordinary week of important incidents af recting commercial and financial casses. It is to be hoped that a cw days o quiet will be allowed to succeed, and that monetary matters may be permitted to resume their former positions. The time for the great closing crisis has not yet served, and until it does it bebooves us to be as caim as possible and prepare our nerves for the crash that these small events merely fore-

It is very amusing to read the remarks of some of the nembers of Congress on the various suggesti as and class that have been recently introduced in both houses m vement of the premium on coin. On Thursday inst to which has since passed that body, having for its bject the suppression of gambling in gold, by which it is prisonment for a person to offer any amount of gold or oign bill of exchange for sale which he does not at the the purchaser, if he proves unable to meet his obligation reenbacks. In opposing this bill, Mr. Edgar Cowan, of navivania, who is a member of the Finance Commitleast effect on the price of sold, and that coin deneaded entirely upon its material value. We dare say Senator Cowan has not spent much time in the gold exchange, or watched the manceuvres of the operators. If he had it is doub ful whether he would have ventured upon such an sesertion. We cannot think that he would convince b meelf that coin can rise in insic value, without the shadow of a cause, four and a per cent in the space of five minutes, and lose five ext three minutes; then rise again in the course of an bour eight and afterwards fall fifteen per cent before the circe of business on the some day, as was the case on Thursday last. If Mr. Cowan's assertion is correct, it is very plain that gold can alter its value in less than the chameleon requires to change its colors, Senator Zachariah Chandler, of Michigan, has that be knows but little about the senti ments of the speculators that throng the market each day. He says they are all persons of down confidence in the government and to destroy the eagerness to make fortunes, have that tendency we admit, and in this respect they may be classed with at agents but we deny that even a majority of them are disloyal in feeling. Out of Wall street the largest the men in Congress, and they would go as far to stain the government; but during their gambling erations, which to them is their business, they are lind to every thing for the time that does not afford od for their morbid appetites. If they have sold short they pray, of course, for gold to decline; but if they have ed on time they are auxious that the premium age of the difference, and so they may be called, if their sires while in the street is to be the test, loyal one day nd disloyal the pext, just as they happen to have the ear's skin or the bull's upon them. Their only ambition rom the time they commence their business until they leave it is to make a fortune speedily, entirely regardless as to who may suffer or how the government is to be fected by their operations. In relation to Senator Sperman's last bill, without gress to enforce it, we are of opinion that, so far as calculated to prevent time sales of gold, it will have good effect, and will rend to check the transactions of hat class of gamblers who are the most unlors; but the attempt to coufine operaof these who buy and sell will prove utterly impractica-ble. The offices of a large number of the speculators, as formerly stated, are either in their hats or overcoat carried on, and from whence emanate the ruling quota tions of coin. The Board of Brokers and the Public

Secretary Chase has ordered the Assistant Treasurer in this city to sus; and, for the present, the sale of gold certi-
